| ST. LOUIS DRESSED BEEF AND PROVISION Company, Plaintiff in Error, vs. MARYLAND CASUALTY COMPANY, Defendant in Error. | In Error to the Circuit Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Missouri. |

The United States circuit court of appeals for the eighth circuit, sitting at the city of St. Louis, Missouri, on the sixth day of March, A. D. 1905, certifies that the record on file in the action above entitled, which is pending in this court upon a writ of error duly issued to review a judgment rendered in this action in favor of the defendant in error in the United States circuit court for the eastern district of Missouri, discloses the following facts:

The judgment which the writ of error challenges sustained a demurrer to the petition and dismissed the action. The plaintiff in its petition alleged the existence of these facts: The plaintiff is a corporation of the State of Missouri and the defendant is a corporation of the State of Maryland. On June 16, 1900, the defendant in consideration of the payment of $168 issued to the plaintiff a policy which contained these provisions: "In consideration of the application for this policy, a copy of which is hereto attached and which is made part of this contract, and of one hundred sixty-eight dollars ($168) premium, Maryland Casualty Company, of Baltimore, Maryland, (hereinafter called 'the company') does hereby agree to indemnify St. Louis Dressed Beef & Provision Co. of St. Louis, county of —— State of Missouri, hereinafter called 'the assured' for the term of one year beginning on the fifth day of July, 1900, at noon, and ending on the fifth day of July, 1901, at noon, standard time, at the place where this policy has been countersigned, against loss from common law or statutory liability for damages on account of bodily injuries, fatal or non-fatal, accidentally suffered by any person
2 or persons, and caused through the negligence of the assured, by means of the horses or vehicles in his services, and the use thereof, as described in the application and while in the charge of the assured or his employees. Provided, however, that:

A. The company's liability for an accident resulting in injuries to, or in the death of one person is limited to five thousand dollars ($5000) and subject to the same limit for each person; the total liability for any one accident resulting in injuries to, or in the death of any number of persons is limited to ten thousand dollars ($10000).

This insurance is subject to the following conditions, which are to be construed as conditions precedent of this contract:

1. The assured, upon the occurrence of an accident, shall give immediate notice thereof in writing, with full particulars to the home office of any claim which may be made on account of such accident.

2. If thereafter any suit is brought against the assured to enforce a claim for damages on account of an accident covered by this policy, immediate notice thereof shall be given to the company, and the company will defend against such proceeding, in the name and on behalf of the assured, or settle the same at its own cost, unless it shall elect to pay the assured the indemnity provided for in clause "A" of special agreements as limited therein.

3. The assured shall not settle any claim, except at his own cost, nor incur any expense, nor interfere in any negotiation for settlement or in any legal proceeding, without the consent of the company previously given in writing, but he may provide at the time of the accident such immediate surgical relief as is imperative. The assured when requested by the company shall aid in securing information and evidence and in effecting settlements, and in case the company calls for the attendance of any employee or employees as witnesses at inquests and in suits, the assured will secure his or their attendance, making no charge for his or their loss of time.

3 8. No action shall lie against the company as respects any loss under this policy unless it shall be brought by the assured himself to reimburse him for loss actually sustained and paid by him in satisfaction of a judgment after trial of the issue. No such action shall lie unless brought within the period within which a claimant might sue the assured for damages unless at the expiry of such period there is such an action pending against the assured, in which case an action may be brought against the company by the assured within thirty days after final judgment has been rendered and satisfied as above. In no case except that of minors shall any action lie against the company after the expiration of six years from the date of the given injuries or death. The company does not prejudice by this clause any defenses to such action which it may be entitled to make under this policy.

This policy shall only cover losses sustained by and liability for any claims against the assured as a result of the risk specified in the contract or contracts hereto attached, and is issued and accepted upon the condition that all the provisions printed on the slip or slips attached to this policy are accepted and shall be fulfilled by the assured as part of this contract as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed."

The portion of the policy hereinbefore quoted commencing with the words "against loss from common law or statutory liability" and ending with the words 'entitled to make under this policy' at the close of paragraph numbered 8, were printed on the slip attached to the policy.

On May 25, 1901, the plaintiff became liable for damages on account of bodily injuries accidentally suffered by Mrs. Nellie Heideman and caused through the negligence of the plaintiff by means of a horse and vehicle in its service and the use thereof as described in the application for the policy and while in charge of one John Berry, who was one of the plaintiff's employees. The plaintiff immediately gave the defendant notice of the accident and of the fact

4 that Nellie Heideman made a claim against the plaintiff for damages on account of the bodily injuries she had suffered from the accident and that Henry Heideman, her husband, also made a claim for damages against it on account of the loss of the services of his wife and of the expenses of physicians and nurses which resulted to him from her bodily injuries. On August 16, 1901, the defendant notified the plaintiff that it denied that it was liable to it on account of the damages resulting from the accident under its policy because, as it alleged, the driver of the plaintiff's wagon was not an employee of the plaintiff, but the fact was that this driver was an employee of the plaintiff and the accident and the damages were covered by the policy. On November 23, 1901, Nellie Heideman sued the plaintiff for $10,000 damages on account of the bodily injuries to her caused by the negligence of the plaintiff's driver and by the accident and Henry Heideman brought an action against it for $3000 damages which he alleged he sustained from the same cause. On November 29, 1901, the plaintiff in writing notified the defendant of the commencement of these suits and requested it to undertake the defense of said suits as its said policy provides it would do. But the defendant declined to undertake the defense upon the alleged ground that its policy did not cover the accident or the claims while the fact was that it covered both. The injuries to Mrs. Heideman were, among others, the breaking of her
5 right hip-joint socket bone, were serious and permanent and the plaintiff was liable for damages in each of the suits. It feared heavy judgments if the actions were permitted to proceed to trial. Thereupon, on April 15, 1902, it compromised the suits and paid Mrs. Heideman $2000 damages and her husband $500 damages on account of the injuries caused by the accident and the negligence of its driver.

The petition also contained the following averments: "The plaintiff served on defendant a written notice notifying it of the terms of settlement offered by said Nellie Heideman and Henry Heideman for the injuries sustained and damages suffered by them respectively, as aforesaid, and that plaintiff proposed to accept said settlements and pay said amounts, and to hold defendant responsible for such payment under its aforesaid policy; that defendant interposed no objection to said proposed settlements, relying upon its said disclaimer of any liability under said policy by reason of its alleged claim that the driver of said wagon was not in the employ of the plaintiff herein; and that said defendant by reason of the said denial and disclaimer of any liability waived all the conditions of the said policy as herein set forth. Plaintiff further states that by reason of defendant's failure and refusal to defend said actions brought by Nellie Heideman and Henry Heideman against plaintiff, and by reason of the waiver aforesaid, it was obliged to and did defend said actions and employed counsel for that purpose, at an expense of two hundred and fifty dollars ($250.00), and that said employment of counsel was reasonably necessary, and that said sum of $250.00 is the reasonable value of said services so performed."

And the circuit court of appeals for the eighth circuit further certifies that the following questions of law are presented by the assignment of errors in this case, that their decision is indispensable to a decision of this case and that to the end that this court may properly decide the issues of law presented it desires the instruction of the Supreme Court of the United States upon the following questions:

6 1. Did the denial of all liability by the assurer and its refusal to defend the suits in the name and on behalf of the assured as provided by paragraph 2 of the policy constitute such a breach of the contract on its part that it released the assured from its agreement in paragraph 3 that it would not settle any claim except at its own cost without the consent of the assurer previously given in writing, and from the provision of paragraph 8 that no action should lie against the assurer as respects any loss unless for loss actually sustained and paid by the assured in satisfaction of a judgment after trial of the issue?

2. Were the provisions of paragraphs 3 and 8 of the policy that the assured should not settle any claim except at its own cost, without the consent of the assurer, previously given in writing, and that no action should lie against the assurer as respects any loss under the policy unless brought by the assured to reimburse it for loss actually sustained and paid by it in satisfaction of a judgment after trial of the issue, waived by the assurer's denial of liability under the policy and by its failure and refusal to defend the suits against the assured according to the provision in paragraph 2?

3. Did the compromise by the assured of the suits against it after the assurer denied liability and refused to defend them and the payment by the assured of the damages claimed of it pursuant to the compromise, without the consent of the assurer and without the rendition of a judgment or a trial of the issues, prevent the assured from securing any recovery of the assurer upon the policy on account of the negligence, accident and injuries described?

4. Considering the terms of the policy, is the right of the assurer to insist upon the condition of paragraph 8 respecting the rendition of judgment after trial and its satisfaction by the assured dependent upon the assurer's defense of the action against the assured according to the provision in paragraph 2?

5. Considering the terms of the policy, is the assurer's denial of liability under the policy a waiver of the condition in paragraph 8 respecting the rendition of judgment after trial and its satis-

7 faction by the assured?

6. Under the terms of the policy may the liability of the assured to the injured person and the extent of that liability be litigated in the first instance in an action between the assured and the assurer where the assurer has denied its liability under the policy and has refused to defend an action brought against the assured by the injured person?

In witness whereof, the undersigned judges holding the United States circuit court of appeals for the eighth circuit have hereunto set their hands this 6th day of March, A. D. 1905, at St. Louis, Missouri, and ordered that the foregoing certificate be filed in said circuit court of appeals and by the clerk of said court duly forwarded to the Supreme Court of the United States.
